

A Thirst for Knowledge The BAS Merchandise Catalog

Biblical Archaeology Review readers have an unquenchable desire to learn, and they purchase a wide variety of products in their pursuit of knowledge—books, DVDs, videos, CD-ROMs and related merchandise. Our products allow readers to deepen their knowledge of a beloved subject matter.

All our products are either written by or present information produced by the most respected scholars in their fields, so customers can be assured that they are getting reliable and informed information. The products cover a wide variety of topics—Biblical and other ancient archaeology, Biblical studies, ancient artifacts, ancient art and architecture, the development of Judaism and Christianity, the Dead Sea Scrolls, the lands of the Near East and the classical world, and much else.

Our bestselling titles Ancient Israel and Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism are considered classroom classics. And we have many other popular books, such as Abraham & Family, great for Bible Study Groups, or Jerusalem's Temple Mount, a stunning picture book perfect for the “armchair archaeologist.”

Our merchandise enthusiasts also enjoy relaxing and learning with our professionally produced DVDs. We offer everything from Where Jesus Walked, with accounts from well-known excavators, to BAS Lecture Series DVDs which highlight our annual Bible and Archaeology Fests and other domestic seminars.

BAR readers, according to a recent survey, spent over $125 million in the past year on product purchases via direct mail, by phone and through the Internet. Purchases that include books, DVDs, clothing and computer software. They spend approximately $63 million each year on books. Your products, like ours, no doubt will be of interest to this target audience, which has the extra income to afford such “luxuries for learning.”
